Biography

THE VOICE

The words 'mesmerizing' and 'amazing' are just some of comments you hear from critics and audience alike when this Prairie Celtic folk singer takes the stage. Jennifer Clarke is one of the most engaging acts on the Celtic scene, whether performing solo or with her band, 'Wild Mountain Thyme'. She's especially known for her ability to enchant with only a single instrument: her unforgettable voice.

A second-generation Scottish-Canadian, Jennifer's connection to her heritage has given her an intuitive sense for traditional Celtic music. To this she adds the flavours of more modern folk instrumentation and contemporary world beat rhythms, relying on her unerring sense of what's needed to bring out the story behind the song. The end result is a sound, rich in texture and variety.

IN CONCERT

Jennifer's flexible performance style makes her a natural for everything from intimate house concert or coffeehouse to the main stages of Celtic and folk festivals. She has shared stages with the likes of Shooogenifty, Buddy McMaster, Vance Gilbert and Scottish Storytellers Margaret Töllick and Judy Paterson. Her soulful laments, whimsical humour, relaxed stage presence and gift for storytelling combine to make Jennifer's concerts 'must see' events.

PERFORMANCE HIGHLIGHTS

An Lannair Arts Centre, Stornoway Scotland 2004 ~ Dalguise Folk Club, Scotland 2004 ~ Live CBC House Concert, Winnipeg 2004 ~ The Back Room, Grand Bend Kansas 2005 ~ Jericho Folk Club, Vancouver 2004 ~ Pongside House Concert, Victoria 2004 ~ Lyric Theatre, Winnipeg 2003 & 2004 ~ Celtic Christmas, Winnipeg 2002 ~ Aberdour Festival, Scotland 2002 ~ Elkton (Oregon) Butterfly Pavilion 2002 ~ Kipawo Arts Centre, Wolfville NS 2002 ~ McPherson (Kansas) Scottish Festival 2001 ~ The Winnipeg Folk Festival, 1999 & 2000 ~ West End Cultural Centre Winnipeg, 1997-2003

RECORDINGS

The fall of 2004 will see the release of Jennifer's third full length album, "Jennifer Clarke ~ Prairie Celt". Like her 2001 release, "The Great Silkie - Tales of the Celts", the new recording features great 'story songs' with arrangements that vary from a cappella to full band and world rhythms, all designed to enhance the story.

WORKSHOPS

In addition to performing the Celtic repertoire, Jennifer delivers workshops that give a hands-on taste of the history, language, music and dance of the Celtic people. Her dynamic and interactive facilitation style has engaged and entertained participants at Celtic festivals and in schools and colleges, in both Canada and the U.S.

Letters to the Editor
WINNIPEG FREE PRESS, SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 2006

Development supported

I write this letter to concur with the majority of the observations absorbed and relayed by Mr. Flood's 10-day excursion on the East Side of Lake Winnipeg.

In fact, I think he was quite conservative regarding details of the unsatisfactory conditions that many have to accept and live with on a daily, monthly and yearly basis.

I've personally witnessed many of these Third World conditions and I am very moved and concerned. However, a feeling of helplessness clouds over me.

I'm not certain of the answers at this point but my professional convictions as a Natural Resources consultant and as an aboriginal person who grew up and continues to live on the East Side leads me to support resource development.

One key point that many of us tend to forget or intentionally exclude is that we've come a long way with regards to education, sustainable development and natural resources.

It is my experience that any of the natural-resource based companies that are interested on the East Side are more than willing to work jointly with the aboriginal communities and not just at the bottom rung.

Many of the people I've worked with are genuinely committed to capacity building and assisting in other ways that would directly benefit individuals and communities who would like to move up and provide for the selves and their people.

I am very much in favour of working towards joint decision-making and revenue sharing between government, industry and the aboriginal communities. It is these common endeavours shared by leaders that will provide the vehicle to get out of poverty.

Lastly, I do not believe protecting a vast area of land supported by so few people is the answer. What does this do for the people who want employment, who want to prosper and obtain their pride back?

In my opinion, once protected always protected and opportunities for thousands of people "stranded" will be lost.
